

Cayman works with your engineers to develop custom on-road or laboratory test procedures to diagnose vehicle-specific development problems, aid in component design or replicate customer usage issues. Unique sensor sets, public road driving conditions or proving ground maneuvers are used to diagnose on-road issues. Laboratory testing utilizing a kinematic and compliance machine, 4/7-post shaker or Flat-Trac machine diagnoses problems not easily replicated during on-road testing.